Guliotine Built by Rebels in Mexico to Execute Their Foes

Home-Made Instrument Tried on Lamb, and General Says It Works Fine

(By Associated Press.) MEXICO CITY, April 7.—The guliotine has made its appearance in Mexico, and a new form of execution confronts enemies of the constitutionalists in San Luis Potosi. At Conception del Oro a guliotine has been erected by rebel mechanics in the corps commanded by General Eulacio Gutierrez, who is here conferring with General Carranza.

Already the new instrument has been tested and the general says "it works splendidly." The test was made with a lamb as the victim.

Desire for revenge is responsible for the appearance of the guliotine in Mexico. General Gutierrez's brother-in-law, Jose Monreal, was killed some years ago in a battle against the federalists. The family of Monreal, including an infant daughter and Gutierrez's sister, were living in San Luis Potosi. The federal commander placed the relatives of Gutierrez, placed them in a cage and sent them to San Luis Potosi. The baby was thrown on the way and nothing is known of the fate of other members of the family.

From what is told by rebels this is only one of the many cases where the children of rebel officers have been taken from San Luis Potosi, the federalists sent to other cities and the families of the rebels have been placed in the hands of the federalists.

General Gutierrez says he will leave Juarez in two or three days to resume his campaign against San Luis Potosi. "My outposts are within eight kilometers of the city," he said. "I expect to capture the place this time."

Mrs. Clara Johnson Tells Court of Husband's Alleged Cruelty When She Had No Tobacco or Whiskey for Him

DECLARES HE THREATENED TO SHOOT HER TO DEATH

Young Woman's Story Wins First Divorce Decree—Her Story of Unhappiness Only One of Many Heard

Beautiful, dark-haired, dressed in a black gown and waist, related only the whiteness of a large cameo at her throat and a soft bobbed collar.

Mrs. Clara Johnson, who was granted a flat verdict of divorce Tuesday from the famous Penfold stock which she had married in August of 1911, told a remarkable story of the unhappiness that she had lived through.

In a voice barely audible by the jurors, Mrs. Johnson said that she had come home drunk late one night in August, 1911, asked for cigarettes and whiskey, and when she told him she had neither, struck a match and set fire to her night dress, after which she was going to burn her to death.

She was not, she said, the young woman when she married Johnson, on December 31, 1906. For a while they were happy. Then, she said, he started drinking heavily, and made her life a torment.

"He choked me twice," she stated, "and he threatened to shoot me with a revolver and threatened to kill me."

The members of the committee are anxious to have 100 or more new members enrolled before the campaign actually starts Wednesday. Names should be sent to Miss Wingo, secretary, at the Y. W. C. A.

COUNCIL HAS FUN WITH NUTTING AND WOODWARD

"Surprising and Suspicious Harmony" Between Them Calls for Special Probe

Mayor Woodward's veto of a resolution dedicating a lot on park purposes owned by the city for park purposes caused a lively and lengthy discussion in general council Monday, and for the first time since Mr. Woodward has been mayor Alderman James H. Nutting supported his veto.

It was argued in support of the veto that the city in the near future will need the lot for a warehouse which is planned to erect as an adjunct of the purchasing department.

The veto was finally sustained by a vote of 18 to 7, and immediately thereafter the clerk read a resolution left on his desk with no authority given, calling for the appointment of a special committee of three to investigate the surprising and suspicious harmony which appears to have come to pass in the relations between Mayor Woodward and Alderman Nutting.

"The resolution caused a hearty laugh and was unanimously adopted. To further the joke, Alderman Hagadone appointed Alderman Muldoon, Councilman Hall and Councilman Lee on the probe committee, and three followed immediately after the resolution, appropriating $1,000 from Alderman Nutting's street fund to defray the expense of the investigation."

PLANS ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR BONDS FOR HOSPITAL

Grady Committee Will Open Headquarters for Its Publicity Work

Establishment of permanent campaign headquarters and active publicity work to begin at once in the interest of a new Grady hospital was unanimously decided on at a meeting of the general committee on Grady enlargements, held Monday afternoon in room 229, Equitable building, Bishop C. Kitchel Nelson presided.

An admission by Dr. W. B. Summerall, superintendent, that he knew the source of opposition to the bonds, and his statement to the committee that such opposition was based on the misinformation that the proposed improvements were accentuated by selfish motives, served to put the workers on their mettle, and a vigorous campaign will be waged. The publicity committee, composed of Dr. J. Foreman, chairman; A. L. Colcord and C. R. Northing, will shortly be enlarged to ten members, and the general committee will also be augmented to meet any contingency that may arise. Headquarters will be established in the new Atlanta chamber of commerce building and a straw ballot by post taken to sound the sentiment of the voters of the city.

CONVICTS MUST NOT REPLACE HIRED DRIVERS

After being informed that convicts had replaced the regular hired drivers on the wagons at the Adamsville camp, Chairman Waters, of the board of county commissioners, Monday wrote a letter to General C. L. Anderson, chairman of the public works committee, asking him that the paid drivers be reinstated. Mr. Waters also asked that in the future all team work be done by paid labor only.

General Anderson said if he found the reports correct he would order reinstatement of any men who have been dropped.

An Easter Innovation Because We Prefer a Small Profit On a Great Many Hats Rather Than Big Profit On a Few

When you try the hats on, moreover, you will find the styles as pleasing and, possibly, more becoming. For all these hats were trimmed by our own milliners, artists who understand Atlanta women and their type of beauty and their tastes. Once upon a time there was a woman who bought for herself—new gown, silken stockings, brand new shoes and gloves and a hat that was the envy of every one who saw it—and thought herself ready for Easter.

And when Easter came both donned their finery and—

PHYSICIANS KNOW

Usually Sickness Begins with Torpid Liver and Constipation.

And that's the trouble. Constipation should never be neglected. Why? All food eaten has some indigestible parts which the liver clears away day by day. An over-supply or a change in liver habits sometimes causes the liver to secrete a few particles, which remain in the stomach and make it more difficult the next day for the liver to do the cleansing work. So this waste accumulates and clogs the intestinal canal and causes constipation. That is, if the waste is not eliminated, it ferments and generates uric acid, a poisonous substance which acts as a blood poison and is carried along through the system to poison it. Self-treatment or auto-treatment, this is not a cure. Uric acid is deposited in the joints and muscles and has rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous prostration, and all poisonous irritation of the delicate linings of the nose, throat or stomach; it causes catarrh. These are but the more common uric acid diseases; as the poison accumulates more serious difficulties develop. And constipation and a torpid liver was at the beginning. Many purgatives taken for a bilious attack, such as calomel, work up the bile, force the liver and bowels to compulsory action and leave them weakened. JACOBS' LIVER SALT is different. It immediately dissolves the uric acid that has accumulated and passes it off in the urine; it flushes and cleanses the intestines and relieves the liver from the pressure of clogged fermentation, and the liver of itself resumes its normal activity. There is no nausea, vomiting or griping, because the uric acid acts in a natural way. It acts quickly, but mildly, and it cures. Take a glass of WATER, JACOBS' LIVER SALT, before breakfast. It is a good habit. The drink is effective and pleasant. And simply wonderful in its stimulant effect upon the liver. Try it. One-half pound jar, 25c (by mail, postpaid). Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta. Miss Nanon Mott Struggles With Bold Highwayman, Who Robbed Her

As Miss Nanon Mott, a telephone girl in the employ of the Southern Bell company, was returning from work to her home at 223 Luckie street Monday evening a young white man leaped from the shadows at the corner of Tabernacle place and grabbed at her money bag.

She struggled with him, screaming loudly, holding to her purse with one hand and with the other striking her assailant across the face.

The bandit wrenched her purse from her hand. Miss Mott held on to his coat and screamed. Passersby hurried toward the screaming pair, but the highwayman struck the girl's arm, tore himself free and darted down the street.

The police were called to the scene but the robber had made a safe getaway. Miss Mott was prostrated by the shock of the encounter. She stated that only a little money was in the purse.

DRILLED BY BULLET FROM "UNLOADED" PISTOL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
GRIFIN, Ga., April 7.—Street Thomas, an employee of the Georgia state penitentiary, was a victim of what was known as a "loaded" pistol yesterday and is now in the local hospital with a bullet hole through his entire body. The shooting occurred in the store of Walker Brothers, in the eastern part of the city, and was purely accidental. The owner of the pistol, Jim Morrison, was showing it to a few friends after he had, as he thought, removed all the cartridges, when there was an explosion and Thomas fell to the floor seriously, but not fatally, wounded.

COUNCIL IN A TANGLE OVER PURCHASING AGENT

Sewer and Street Contracts,
After Long Discussion, Are Awarded by Council

A question as to whether the authority of the city purchasing agent extends to the purchase of materials for sewer and street work got the sewer and street committees of general council in a tangle Monday afternoon from which they had to be extricated by the city attorney, who ruled in the negative; and when the committees went to general council with their recommendations as to the various awards there was another tangle.

It developed that Mayor Woodward, who held that the purchasing agent should purchase these materials, had vetoed a resolution of council directing the chief of construction to advertise for bids, and council was confronted with this situation.

It was anxious for the contracts to be awarded, so that work could go ahead while the weather is fair. It was afraid if it overrode the mayor's veto of the resolution calling for bids, then the mayor would be displeased, and would veto the awards recommended by the sewer and street committees; but it appeared that unless the veto was over-ruled then the bids would not be legal and the awards of the contracts would be invalidated.

There was a discussion of an hour, with nothing done, and finally Councilman Humphreys moved that the committee be authorized to purchase the materials, and the committee agreed to the recommendation of the sewer and street committees. The motion passed and it is expected that the mayor will be satisfied.

In the course of the discussion it developed that council members are dissatisfied with the ordinance creating the purchasing agent, because its language is not clear as to the extent of the purchasing agent's authority. The result is likely to be an overhauling of the ordinance so that in future there will be no misunderstanding or friction.

Another feature of the sewer and street contracts was an action by Councilman Jesse B. Lee, chairman of the sewer committee, who is in the sidewalk business, that Alderman John S. Owens is a stockholder in the "Cement Tile and Stone company," which was the successful bidder on several of the contracts. Alderman Owens denied the accusation and submitted to the joint committee an affidavit that he disposed of all his stock last January. Councilman Lee then objected to the company's bid for having its sidewalks on the ground that it was too low for the small contractors to compete with. This objection did not weigh with the committee, but on the contrary they were glad to get such a low bid, as it will save the property owners money.

MRS. SUSAN MEMMINGER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mother of Dr. W. W. Memminger Succumbs After Several Days' Illness

Mrs. Susan Memminger died Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's infirmary, where she has been critically ill for several days.

She was the mother of Dr. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' church, and has been living with her son since last October. She came to Atlanta from Charleston, S. C., her native home, and has made many friends in the city who regret her death.

She was seventy-one years old. She was the widow of the late Rev. R. W. Memminger, whose father, Christopher G. Memminger, was secretary and treasurer of the Confederate States of America.

Before her marriage she was Miss Susan Maxwax, a member of one of the oldest families in South Carolina. The Maxwax came to this country with the first Huguenots, and have been in Charleston since 1680. Mrs. Memminger was a member of the Huguenot society and of the Colonial Dames.

She had seven sons, five of whom survive her. They are Dr. W. W. Memminger, of Atlanta; H. K. Memminger, of S. C.; and Laiken Memminger, of Rouen, France.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Services will be conducted from All Saints' church by Bishop C. K. Nelson, and the body will then be taken to Flat Rock, N. C., where all of the Memminger family are buried.

MILL MAN'S BODY FOUND; IS WASHED OVER DAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
DALTON, Ga., April 7.—Late yesterday afternoon the body of Mack Johnson, the Cisco saw mill man who was washed over the dam at Gray's mill and drowned in Conasauga river early Tuesday morning, was recovered. While about 300 people were engaged in dragging the river, several saw mills in the Cisco section were closed down, and hundreds flocked in the search. The first reward of $25 offered for the recovery of the body was added to the friends until $100 had been secured. This amount was divided between Neil Fowler and Nick James, who located the body under a log about 200 yards below the mill dam. The body was taken to Wilcox county, Tenn., for burial.

TOLLS QUESTION TO HAVE 15 DAYS PUBLIC HEARINGS

Discussion of Repeal Bill to Begin in the Senate
April 9

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—Fifteen days of public hearings beginning on April 9 on the Sims bills to repeal the Panama tolls exemption were decided upon today by the senate canal committee.

Administration supporters, pressing for a minimum of delay in getting the bills out of committee, professed to be satisfied with the plan for fifteen days of hearings provided additional time was not reserved for consideration of the bill after hearings are completed.

The hearings will give opportunity for treating out various amendments, and among them one to reaffirm the sovereignty of the United States over the canal zone and its right under the treaty to grant an exemption to coastwise ships if it desired to do so.

The controversy continued to eddies in all other business in the senate chamber. Senator Work, Republican of California, made a lengthy speech analyzing the treaty obligations of the United States.

COMMITTEE ADJOURNS.
"The granting of this exemption is a purely domestic matter," he said. "There could be no discrimination against Great Britain because no foreign nation can enter into the coastwise trade. Some of our representatives have out-Brillianted the British in their claims for that nation."

Senator Brandegee, Republican, cast the only vote against the hearings, saying he did so because he believed the committee's action would have no effect. He urged that the repeal bill be returned to the senate without any report and that the fight be transferred to the floor.

The committee adjourned until Thursday, with the understanding that the authors of various bills and resolutions on the subject will be heard, pending the arrival of witnesses from New Orleans and the Pacific coast.

By a vote of 15 to 27, the first taken in the senate on the Panama tolls exemption controversy, Senator Pointevidere's resolution asking President Wilson for an explanation of the language of his repeal message was referred to the foreign relations committee.

Urging passage of the Pointevidere resolution, Senator Lippitt, Republican, declared he was undecided how he would vote on the repeal bill and believed it the duty of the senate to find out what the president had said as to the country's foreign relations which had prompted the language of his message.

"I have not found any man anywhere who understands what is in the world that language means," he said.

Then the senate adopted Senator Brandegee's resolution calling upon the state department for all "information, correspondence and records," bearing on the negotiations for the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the interpretation of that treaty.

Consideration of the Panama tolls controversy was taken up by the senate committee on inter-oceanic commerce by announcing to the decision of the committee as announced by Senator O'Gorman, the deliberations were more and carefully arranged so that the phases of the controversy might be considered.

There were not predictions today as to the committee's deliberations would continue and it was not apparent whether the committee would hold hearings which have been requested by the opponents of the repeal.

The committee had before it the bill passed by the house repealing the clause exempting vessels from tolls and various compromise measures which have been introduced in the senate.

SEALING SHIP JAMMED
IN ST. LAWRENCE ICE
Condition of Steamer Seal
Gives Hope That Southern Cross May Be Safe

(By Associated Press.)
HALIFAX, N. S., April 7.—The Halifax steamer Seal, jammed in the ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, 500 miles from the southern coast of Greenland, was less than 24 hours from being released, according to a wireless message received last night by her owners. The message said that the steamer, with 6,000 seal skins on board, had been held fast for a week and that there was no immediate prospect for her release.

The owners of the Seal suggested that this information of the ice conditions in the waters about New Foundland might tempt some sealers to go to the ice. The Southern Cross, however, had left the Gulf of the St. Lawrence and was off the southern coast of New Foundland when sighted.

TO TAKE UP SEGREGATION OF ASIATICS IN SCHOOLS
Action Is the Result of Murder of a Woman By Her House
Boy

(By Associated Press.)
VANCOUVER, British Columbia, April 7.—Segregation of Asiatics in high schools was taken up here last night by the city council, as the direct result of the murder of Mrs. Charles J. Millard last Wednesday by her house boy, Jack Kong. Kong, it was learned, attended the Lord Robert's public school, mingling with the white children there.

A resolution urging the school board to enforce segregation, was referred to the city solicitor for information as to the city's legal rights in the matter, it being the sense of the council that the school board should be instructed to enforce the segregation of Asiatics in the schools. The council also decided to buy all labor from firms employing white labor, where prevailing prices can be met.

COUNCILMAN LEE WILL HOLD ON HIS CHAIRMAN

But Mayor Woodward Says
Seawright, Not Lee, Is Head of Fire Committee

Mayor Woodward says Councilman Jesse B. Lee, of the Fifth ward, is no longer the chairman of the fire committee of general council.

On the death of Alderman John H. Harwell, of the First ward, several weeks ago, the mayor named various council members to the alderman's committee places, and among these was the name of Councilman Lee as chairman of the fire committee.

A few days ago Councilman Lee announced that henceforth he would not support Mayor Woodward, his recentment having been aroused because (as he claimed) the mayor permitted him to be excluded from consideration of bids for an automobile fire apparatus.

Mayor Woodward said very little in reply to Councilman Lee, but on Monday he sent to council a communication stating that he had appointed Alderman J. H. Seawright, the successor of Alderman Harwell, as chairman of the fire committee.

Councilman Lee, construing this as retaliation on the mayor's part, announced that he would refuse to relinquish the chairmanship, and claimed in support of his position a ruling by the city attorney that the mayor, after naming committees, cannot change them.

The mayor now says he did change Councilman Lee to make way for Alderman Seawright, but put Councilman Lee's name in his first communication by mistake.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

Many Smart Women Will Choose The Superb
Madame Irene Corset

For Wear With Their New Easter Frocks

Why should a woman search long for a frock that is true to the styles of the moment, that is designed according to the new silhouette and then lose the desired effect by putting it on over a corset that is not right? For, after all, the smartest and most graceful dress can only conform to one's figure.

The woman who watches the details will have none of this. She will have her corset to conform to the lines of the present-day fashions—she will have it in harmony with the lines that the makers of the dress fashioned the frock for.

The results will be evident. What corset, then, will she turn to for this effect? She cannot make a mistake by choosing a Madame Irene. Perhaps no Corset to be had in America more truly reflects today's fashions than does the Madame Irene.

It is built according to Paris "specifications." It imparts the lines that the smartest makers of dresses are giving to their dresses.

Nor is this true of just one or two models—it is true of many. There is a Madame Irene Corset for your figure, that will add to the beauty and grace of your Easter frock.

Our fitters will find it for you! They are capable, conscientious, trained; they "know how." The corset that they give you will fit you as it should—and your Easter frock will be given the proper setting.

ELABORATE PROGRAM IS ARRANGED FOR SHRINERS

Something Doing Every Minute of the Carnival Until the Last Visitor Leaves

The outline of the busiest week in Atlanta's history has been revealed in the program of fixed events for the Shriners' meeting next month. The program covers five days, from Monday, May 11, to Friday, May 15, but that period is more than the nucleus of the big carnival. Beginning with the arrival of the first visitors, Saturday morning, May 9, Atlanta will be active every minute of the day and night until the last visitor departs the following Saturday. Hundreds of individuals will prolong their stay even beyond that, as the city's relapse to the normal will be gradual.

The big events of the fixed program are the two tremendous parades on Tuesday, May 12, the imperial council meeting that day, the grand balls in the auditorium on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the exhibition drills by the Ponce de Leon park Wednesday morning, and the trip of the imperial council to Savannah, interspersed with these will be motorcades, races each afternoon and evening, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, luncheon, dinners and banquets; baseball games at Ponce de Leon park every afternoon, reception and tea each afternoon at Uncle Remus' home; and innumerable other features, the majority of which are planned by the visiting temples and of which it would be a hopeless task to attempt a program. The federal officials will be busy with visitors for an hour each morning and an hour each afternoon. If the successor of the Seventeenth Infantry taken station by then at Fort McPherson, a dress parade each afternoon will add to the general interest. And all this while the city will be streaming with an interesting point in and around Atlanta.

Following is the official program for the week:

MONDAY, MAY 11.
2:30 p. m., motorcade, races, Yaarab free-for-all.

8:30 p. m., grand reception and ball in honor of W. W. Irwin, imperial potentate, and wife at the auditorium.

9 p. m., grand ball in the auditorium.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 13.

OLD EDGEWOOD LIGHT PLANT IS SOLD BY CITY

Councilmen Pleased With the Price Obtained for Abandoned Property

The old lighting plant of the town of Edgewood, which was incorporated by the city of Atlanta in 1903, thereby making the lighting plant the property of the city, was sold Monday by the general council for $4,150.

Councilman Charles W. Smith, of the Ninth ward, who was mayor of Edgewood when it was annexed, said that the price was better than he had expected the city would ever get, inasmuch as the property consisted of a little more than the lot. The building is old and abandoned, while the machinery of the lighting plant was moved soon after the annexation to the city waterworks station, where it is now generating current to light the waterworks.

Council passed a resolution by Alderman Albert Thompson authorizing the city's commission to receive proposals for ground for a new city cemetery, to convey the same and make a recommendation to council if it should consider any of the proposals satisfactory.

On recommendation of the electric light committee, the $4,000 appropriated for new street lights was divided equally between the ten city wards, thereby giving each ward $400. The custom heretofore has been to divide the appropriation according to the needs of the various wards, instead of dividing it equally.

A resolution was introduced by Alderman Maddox to increase the salary of the second slaughter house inspector from $1,000 to $1,200 per year. It was passed by council and will go to the aldermanic board for separate action.

MEMBERS OF CHAMBER URGE SUPPORT OF FIFTH

M. R. Wilkinson and W. L. Moore Ask That Enlistment Be Encouraged

Strong statements urging that Atlanta's employers heed the appeals of officers of the Fifth regiment and stand by the organization were made today by President M. R. Wilkinson, of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, and Wilmer L. Moore, former president, and now a director in that body.

Both Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Moore declare that the regiment is an essential asset of the city and that the officers who are at the head of it should receive the support of every citizen. They expressed the belief that the employers who are holding back would soon follow the lead of the others who endorse the Fifth and encourage their employee to enlist.

THE BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY BREWERTON

IN THE LOCAL PLAYHOUSES

Continued of local performances at the local theaters are written by members of the Journal staff. All titles are the property of the management.

A tip to you, if you intend going to the Forsyth this evening. When you come in the door and the usher shows a bit of pastboard in your hand, don't look at the name of the act, drink on it and then throw it away.

We did. And what a way we missed half of the best thing on the bill—the Verigraph. The pastboard is dignified by the name of Jorgnette and without it you will see in the Verigraph only a blurred picture that wasn't focused right.

But through the Jorgnette you will see one of the most wonderful things that modern photography has conceived—pictures that have the third dimension, depth and perspective. It is done, according to the side-show barker who explains the picture, by monkeying with the right eye and putting it over the left, or something or other like that.

But never mind. What you see is a bird's-eye view of New York City, a man in the foreground that look at it he is on the stage and far off in the infinite distance, skyscraper toppling behind skyscraper, jettied bridges, the river, the far-flung hills. Or you will see a house, or a bunch of daisies that stand out and paver and recede as they were the real thing. The Verigraph is worth seeing all the way.

There isn't any headline on the bill, and it's very good. Ray Cox is booked in the next to last place, a rather common comedienne who sings songs and does character studies of her own invention. It's a trifle raw at times, but she gets by with it.

The bill opens with Paul LaCox, the Mad Hatter, who does things with a variety of lids. Alexander's Kids follow, two wee tots who dance and sing with much skill and grace and make one of the biggest hits of the evening.

"Fixing the Furnace" is a humorous exposition of why we have millionaire plumbers. Lots of old stuff and some new and all of it extremely funny.

The spring and summer stock season will open on Monday night, there will be matinee performances afternoons, and "Thursday and Saturday afternoon, and the bill will be David Bohannon's wonderful play, "The Lily," powerful, unique and interesting. Though the play is one of the standard successes of modern theatricals, it has never been seen here before, and is a "two-dollar show" if there ever was one. The Lyric scale of prices will be 25 cents for the best seats, 15 cents and 75 cents at night, with balcony seats at 50 cents, 25 cents and 25 cents.

Coming direct from Weber's theater of New York, Herman Lieke's "The Dope," in six acts, will be the photoplay attraction for the Grand matinee and night all of the week starting with Monday matinee.

"Dope" tells a tale of the downfall of a favorite son and daughter because of a drug habit, innocently begun. It shows the growth of the cocaine and morphine habit, producing the moral decay following the enslavement of the victim. "Dope" is full of powerful situations and thrilling climaxes. It is still one of the great big acts in vaudeville, being played by the author, Herman Lieke, and a supporting company.

The same that posed for the six reels that will be exhibited at the Grand.

Herman Lieke is a member of the Joseph Kilgore company at the Grand several seasons ago, and will be pleasantly remembered by hundreds of friends.

More than 400 advance reservations were registered at the opening sale for the engagement of the Lucille LaVerne company at the Lyric yesterday. In addition, twenty-eight, theatergoers were listed as permanent subscribers for seats for the season, and still better, the cash advance sale for the opening performance of "The Lily" on Monday exceeded any previous record held by the accommodation of those who desire to exercise the privilege of securing seats in advance, making reservations and selecting permanent seats for the season.

There was evidence a few weeks ago that local people want a dramatic stock company—and General Manager Jake Wells has supplied a company that promises to be superior to any that has been brought here.

MANY STORES ROBBED NEAR POLICE STATION

Thieves Secure Wagon Load of Loot From Decatur Street Business Houses

The household burglars that operated on Decatur street Monday night must have used a two-horse dray to cart away their loot in, all of which was obtained from two stores within a couple of blocks of the police station.

M. Abstein, who owns a grocery store at 34 Decatur street, near Decatur street, Tuesday morning to find a rear window broken and his stock despoiled to the extent of two and a half barrels of flour, three tubs of lard, one bag of rice and a sack of side meat.

George Asan discovered a back window broken at his furnishing shop at 34 Decatur street Tuesday morning and counted among the missing ten pairs of shoes, six boxes of socks and three ladies dresses.

When J. A. Freedman, who has a shoe store at 34 Decatur street, arrived there Tuesday morning he found six pairs of tan shoes and four of black lying in the entrance. He tried the door. It was open.

The shoe case had been rifled of shoes. Or so was a note. It said: "Leave some larger sizes. These are too small. Will call again."

Mr. Freedman went out and tacked up a sign. The sign read, "The store closes at 7 o'clock during the summer months."

"Dope" tells a tale of the downfall of a favorite son and daughter because of a drug habit, innocently begun. It shows the growth of the cocaine and morphine habit, producing the moral decay following the enslavement of the victim. "Dope" is full of powerful situations and thrilling climaxes. It is still one of the great big acts in vaudeville, being played by the author, Herman Lieke, and a supporting company.

Herman Lieke is a member of the Joseph Kilgore company at the Grand several seasons ago, and will be pleasantly remembered by hundreds of friends.

More than 400 advance reservations were registered at the opening sale for the engagement of the Lucille LaVerne company at the Lyric yesterday. In addition, twenty-eight, theatergoers were listed as permanent subscribers for seats for the season, and still better, the cash advance sale for the opening performance of "The Lily" on Monday exceeded any previous record held by the accommodation of those who desire to exercise the privilege of securing seats in advance, making reservations and selecting permanent seats for the season.

There was evidence a few weeks ago that local people want a dramatic stock company—and General Manager Jake Wells has supplied a company that promises to be superior to any that has been brought here.

The spring and summer stock season will open on Monday night, there will be matinee performances afternoons, and "Thursday and Saturday afternoon, and the bill will be David Bohannon's wonderful play, "The Lily," powerful, unique and interesting. Though the play is one of the standard successes of modern theatricals, it has never been seen here before, and is a "two-dollar show" if there ever was one. The Lyric scale of prices will be 25 cents for the best seats, 15 cents and 75 cents at night, with balcony seats at 50 cents, 25 cents and 25 cents.

Coming direct from Weber's theater of New York, Herman Lieke's "The Dope," in six acts, will be the photoplay attraction for the Grand matinee and night all of the week starting with Monday matinee.

This Is Perhaps the Most Important Week of the Whole Year In the Buying of New Apparel

During these next few days there will be more buying of new Spring clothing for every member of the family than in any other similar period of the whole twelve months.

Service in This Store Will Splendidly Respond to All Demands In the Women's Salons

At this moment there are literally thousands of Easter suits and dresses given over to the outfitting of women, and yet, in buying quantity is the last thing we think of; the quantity is inevitable because the variety is so great. We are not satisfied to have one style of suit or dress at $15, $25 or $40; there must be a half dozen or more; because we want every woman who wishes to spend any particular sum of money to find here the greatest possible variety of choice.

Suitable Dress for All Occasions

Women will find here what they need for every hour of the day, from the simplest tailored wool frocks for morning wear, to the suits or gowns for church, for the promenade, for luncheons, bridge parties, dancing teas, dinners and formal occasions.

We extend a cordial invitation to every one concerned with Easter apparel to come and look.

Wednesday will be a very important day with new suits, dresses, coats and gowns at Special Prices.

First We Want to Tell You About--

A Sale of Silk Dresses at $18.50

Street and calling dresses of taffetas, plain and flowered, also the loveliest of flowered and plain crepes de chine, in the fashionable gold, amber and other yellow tones, pretty, dull blues, Mahogany, violet, grays, wistaria and greens. They are charming dresses, trimmed in varied and delightful ways with laces, chiffon, nets, frills, flounces and ruffles.

Evening Gowns and Dance Dresses at Half Price

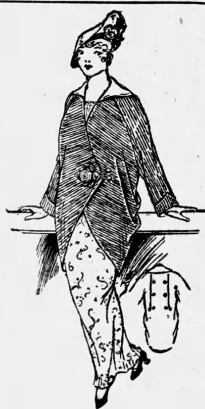

One of the greatest events we have held at any time before Easter.

Dresses that were brought out and shown at the very beginning of the season. Elegant gowns, of the most superb materials, and as distinctive and individual as the most artistic could plan for herself.

There are stately dinner gowns for the most formal occasions, then there are sheer, delicate dresses made in fluffy styles, suitable for dancing.

This is the way they are priced:

$75 Dresses at $37.50 $50 Dresses at $25.00
$60 Dresses at $30.00 $40 Dresses at $20.00
$35 Dresses at $17.50

Fashionable Silk Coats at $12.50.

Beautiful Coats that one may wear for day time or night, with one-piece dresses.

They are made of Crepe Ottoman, black with collar of white corded silk, exactly as illustrated; with peau de cygne linings of assorted colors. Coats of wonderful style and value at $12.50.

Other Coats, same style, are made of heavy black satin, unlined; priced at $7.50 each.

Smart Wool Dresses at $8.75

The illustration shows their charming style; they are ideal dresses to slip into now and wear until summer. Made of very light-weight wool crepe, spring-like in every feature.

The colors are French blue, Copenhagen, navy, tan, mahogany and black, with girle and buttons of black silk; a soft, pretty trimming of lace. One of the best dresses we have ever had at so low a price--$8.75

Wonderful Wool Suits That You May Buy at $20

At no other season have Women's low-priced Suits been so beautiful.

This is a Special!

There are a half dozen styles and they look more like $35 Suits than $20 Suits. Made of the new crepe weave materials or imported poplins, exactly as illustrated and several other models in the cool, pretty green, chartrons, fane, mustard, blues and black; pretty trimmings of moire silk and touches of lace or ruching. You will be delighted to find such Suits at $20.

"Delicious" Dress- es of Crepe Voile at $12.50

That word better describes them than any other we know. For they are everything that is cool, summery and inviting.

The illustration above shows the pretty and becoming style of making, but it does not tell you of the soft, lovely color tone. The bodice and two flared tunics are dotted material, rose, blue, green, or lavender dote on white ground; the skirt of white crepe voile with frog ornament of the same color; a soft satin girle to match in color; these dresses are truly delightful and will not tarry long at this price--$12.50.

The Easter Blouse-- an Important Factor

We do not know whether the extraordinary demand is due to the beauty and becomingness of these dainty creations, or if their variety and charm are due to the great demand. We suspect both is true--and we do know that there was never such a blouse season. They come daily into stock, and go out just as rapidly.

More new Blouses are here, however, to supply every Easter need.

All kinds, too: Lovely crepe de chine, white or the popular pale tints, flesh and the yellows--shadow lace. Blouses made over light tints--French Voiles and Crepe Voiles, in the most bewitching styles--soft, frilly, some with medallions and finish of Venice lace and ornamental buttons. At all prices, from $1.50 to $10.00.

Striking Styles in Separate Skirts Particularly These Black Moires at $8.75

A pleasing concomitant too the dainty blouse--these becoming skirts of black moire silk. They are made double tunic, style-tunic trimmed. All sizes may be had, waist measure--22 to 36 inches.

LATE MODEL

The skirt has been the subject of much controversy this season. Here is the pantaloette model that is taken as an indication of the coming of a full short skirt.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS.—The new materials are quite attractive. The three most popular ones are well known by name: Gollins, carbadine, moire, taffeta and Chinese crepe. One rarely sees these four staple fabrics omitted in any dressmaking house.

They are manipulated in various ways, chosen in many colors, and combined with still other fabrics, but one is sure to find them. There is also a weave of silk which is exceedingly fine and soft, and is widely used over here for separate short coats, for waistcoats, for Turkish girdles, and sometimes for skirts. It is rarely plain, and usually bears the imprint of broad stripes in strong colors, which is a revived design from Revolution days. It is usually called satin for want of a better name, but it is really not the same weave. If one does not care for its broad striping in costume, let me assure you it makes admirable sofa cushions. When they are three feet long, eighteen inches wide, very finely stuffed and edged with a deep border of black satin ribbon, they are one of the best satin notions of the season.

Of plain satin, there is little. Every one laments its departure, and there may be individualists who will continue to wear it. Here and there one sees evening gowns of it such as a wonderful royal blue made by Cheruit without a single touch of ornament or lace or crystals. The entire beauty is in the skillful draping, and it is torn from the skin of the neck and arms by a band of white tulle.

Again Yards of Tulle.
There is no disposition on the part of the manufacturers to drop tulle. Miles of it are used this season, as entire gowns and in connection with other fabrics. Lace plays a dominant part in gowns for the afternoon and evening, and that artistic design of vermilion celli lace, invented by Callot, is widely used over colored satins or tulle or as an overdress for tulle.

The objection against the lace is its expense. Callot asks $125 for a gown of it, although she will substitute an imitation of the best weave for $150. These prices, by the way, will show you that France has not decreased the value of her clothes this year, although there has never been more talk of a bad season, of impending bankruptcy, and of the crashing of some big houses.

Of the popularity of taffeta there is no use to talk. America may, or may not use it, but Europe is enthusiastic over it. When one asks why, the answer is that it "bunches up" well. This statement, in itself, is an evidence of the fashion tendency. We are certainly "bunched up" in the back, for the manner, the manner, and the manner have resolved themselves into this huge puff just below the waistline.

New Laces Are Attractive.
Denoit has a remarkably clever lace designer who has invented a trimmings that may be called lace for want of a more descriptive name. It is a fine silk net on which are applied flowers of chicken net, outlined with a fine thread, or sometimes a white silk thread.

The house uses this in deep ruffles on linings of satin or taffeta. It is also made into loose short capes that are gathered to a neckband and hang over a decollete evening gown.

What is known as lame lace—pronounced in two syllables with the accent on the "a"—is growing in fashion. It was invented last summer and is quite effective with its flat, thinly rolled silver thread applied in lace design to a net surface.

The new crepes are so strikingly like callous used in our south that the American cannot refrain from smiling at their appearance on smart women. The weave is exceedingly soft, but the coloring and the formation of the fibres have the same primitive stamp as the 5-cent cotton calico which has been worn for two centuries by the negroes on southern plantations.

This crepe is used for informal gowns. Although the material is light enough to be comfortable on a hot day, the coloring is vivid, and for this reason may be objectionable to those who like cool colors in hot weather.

There are many other fashions, however that are light in color, but they are not so attractive. They have pink roses or blue circles on a white ground and are very, very youthful.

OUR ASTROLOGER

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE FOR WEDNESDAY, April 8, 1914.

Under two stars kindly way
Travelers find good luck today.

Astrologers advise men and women to travel, seek work and deal with business associates today, but to avoid signing important papers.

While Mars and Neptune are in benefic aspect, Mercury and Uranus are in places believed to be strongly evil in their effect.

The influences are held to be favorable for steel workers, employees in foundries and armors. This is interpreted as indicative of activity in building warships.

There is a good sign for hunters and fishermen. Woodsmen and trappers should benefit today.

Surgeons, physicians, apothecaries, and chemists should gain under this configuration.

There is a promising sign for attending to affairs connected with shipping. Increase of commerce with oriental countries is predicted.

It is an auspicious time to begin journeys on the water. Loss of a steamer later in the spring is prophesied.

Neptune is read as favoring women and love affairs, as well as the affairs of the home, but Mercury gives warning of danger from letters.

It is not a lucky day for entering into written contracts. Actors and singers should delay signing important papers.

Mercury's malign power is believed to madden petty worries and to excite serious trifling annoyances. It tends to disturb the digest and upset the nerves.

The tale is dangerous to domestic serenity.

It is prophesied that crime will greatly increase in France and that sensational incidents will take place early in the summer.

Italy will pass through certain exciting events the foreign astrologers declare.

Fires and accidents which cause loss of life are stubbornly preaged by the stars.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a year of small troubles. Men may be annoyed by employees. Women should conserve their financial resources.

Children born on this day probably will be extremely active. They will be industrious, but more or less unlucky in business. Girls should be guarded against unfortunate marriage.

Manager O'Day Has Had Varied Diamond Career

Held First Professional Engagement at Savannah in Early 80's—Broke Into National League in 1888 as a Pitcher for Washington, Once a Giant

PITTSBURG, April 7.—Of the five managers in the American and National leagues next season, "Hank" O'Day will carry the most interesting record. In this he is more fortunate than any of the other managers who will make their debut.

When Johnny Evers stepped out as manager during the winter season he left him a good outfield, one of the best in the business and good pitching and catching staff, all of which would seem to make up a good team.

O'Day is not a new man to the managing game. He spent a season with the Reds in this capacity in 1912. Any manager who can spend a full season with the Reds as manager, must, of necessity, be some manager. Irrespective of the standing of the team at the close of the season.

FAILED WITH REDS.
O'Day did no better than any of his predecessors as manager of the Cincinnati team. As it afterwards developed, and as Joe Tinker turned out his sorrow last season, the board of directors of the club were not to take orders from him.

Hank didn't like this way of doing business and at the end of the season was given the "kick out" sign. Under the conditions of his release, O'Day was to be paid for the season of 1913. This one season of managing was all that he got. He was to be paid for the season of 1913. This one season of managing was all that he got.

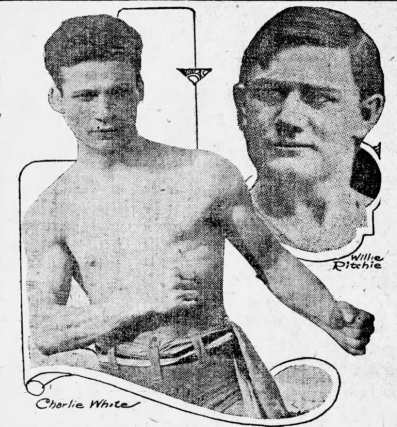

On Second Trial.
Now Hank is back as manager. Whether he will make good or not will depend largely on whether he is given full charge of the team on the field. With the team he has in his hands, it would not be surprising to see him repeat the wonderful success.

Clark Griffith, who went away from the Reds called a dud and came back the following season, with the Senators, headed as would be expected by him. He was also a matter of being full control in one place and being given full control in the other.

O'Day is a Chicagoan by birth. He was born on the West side, in 1861. After leaving school he became apprenticed to a steamfitter. He was attracted by the game of baseball and went back west. He spent a few years in Nebraska and Iowa and was induced to return to the game as an umpire by "Nick" Young, president of the National League.

O'Day had a record of about twenty consecutive years as an umpire before he gave up the job to become manager of the Reds in 1912. When he was with Washington Hank was the attorney for the National League and the American League. He was the attorney for the National League and the American League.

GREAT BATTLE PROMISED WHEN WHITE MEETS RITCHIE

BY HUGH R. FULFORD.
Boys, there's going to be a fight. This is going to be a real one, one worth sitting out to see. There have been few enough of that kind in recent boxing history, but when Charlie White and Willie Ritchie tuck their chins in for an agreement to do battle in May they started something.

There is a lot behind this match which Tom Andrews is promoting that the general public and the fight lovers do not know. White has been seeking to do it his great opportunity. I happen to know that he has fished for a match with Ritchie, stalled for it and maneuvered in all kinds of ways to get it. Now that he has his opportunity, we will see what he does with it.

In some ways Charlie has had hard luck. He has missed free when his championship chances seemed best, and failed to get several rich matches for ship ups that were expected. He believes the champion is needed for him, although that opinion may be amended, as Ritchie has changed his name and style of battling wonderfully.

It is bound to be a great battle. Ritchie is one of the most undervalued champions the ring ever has had. This is partly his fault. Many fans lost faith in him during his long absence from the ring and thought he was not of championship caliber. He disbanded himself for years, and when he came back he was not of championship caliber. He disbanded himself for years, and when he came back he was not of championship caliber.

But if there had been any particular great things to do down there between Lynch and Amey McConnel, we have any idea he would have been just about the right man to do it. He calloped around the territory and managed everything that came his way, and when he came to bat he made three or four old boys that have been looking for a fight since they cracked a smile of satisfaction.

Just from what we have seen of Jennings so far, he is not the man to go to. White, too, is an underestimated character. He is much more clever than he seems. The battle will be one of wit as well as of fists. The boys have studied each other's systems so carefully that either one may catch and spring a big surprise. One thing is certain, it ought to be the fastest battle seen in this section in a long time.

In addition to Jennings' nice work, there were other things worth mentioning. Just how well he did in the
